

New Missile Finds, Kills Enemy Subs

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States may have fired a nuclear missile that the Navy claims can seek out and kill a enemy submarine within an eight mile range.

The first underwater explosion of the current U.S. nuclear test series was one of two blasts detonated Thursday in the Pacific. It followed the air burst of a more powerful nuclear device dropped from an airplane, believed to be a B52 bomber, in the vicinity of Christmas Island.

The two shots—the first one-day doubleheader of the Dominic series—were the eighth and ninth of the tests which began April 25. The underwater burst was described as a low yield shot, meaning it had the explosive equivalent of less than 20,000 tons of TNT.

The Defense Department said only that it was fired in the eastern Pacific, several hundred miles from the closest land.

There have been reliable reports that either ASROC or SUBROC — antisubmarine weapons—would be tested with a nuclear charge.

ASROC is a 15-foot missile designed to be fired from destroyers, cruisers, or frigates. It already is operational and about 150 ships of the fleet are due to be armed with them within the next few years.

When fired, the 1,000-pound ASROC speeds through the air to the target area, then hits the water and homes in on enemy submarines by following their sounds. Experts say it is capable of destroying an enemy submarine at a range up to about eight miles.

The SUBROC, another powerful weapon, still is in development. It is a guided missile designed to be fired from a submerged submarine's torpedo tubes or from the surface. The missile travels through the air, then re-enters the water for the kill.

The Defense Department said it expects no hazard from radioactive contamination of fish or other sea life as a result of yesterday's underwater blast.

Rails Seeking Relief From Some Taxes

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The shipping and traveling public deserves better treatment from the railroad industry in return for tax and regulatory relief the railroads are seeking, a rail union president said in a speech prepared for delivery here today.

H. E. Gilbert, president of the 80,000-member Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, criticized what he called the railroad industry's "unwillingness to give the nation complete rail transportation, including adequate passenger service."

Gilbert spoke to the Oklahoma-Arkansas-Kansas meeting of the Brotherhood. He attacked a report of a presidential commission on the work rules of 200,000 railroad operating employees.

Gilbert charged leaders of the railroad industry with failing to fulfill their responsibility of providing all types of rail transportation.

He said he was concerned about whether the railroads would use the tax and regulatory relief they are seeking to provide complete rail service, or whether they would "continue on their present course of seeking business only in areas of high profit."

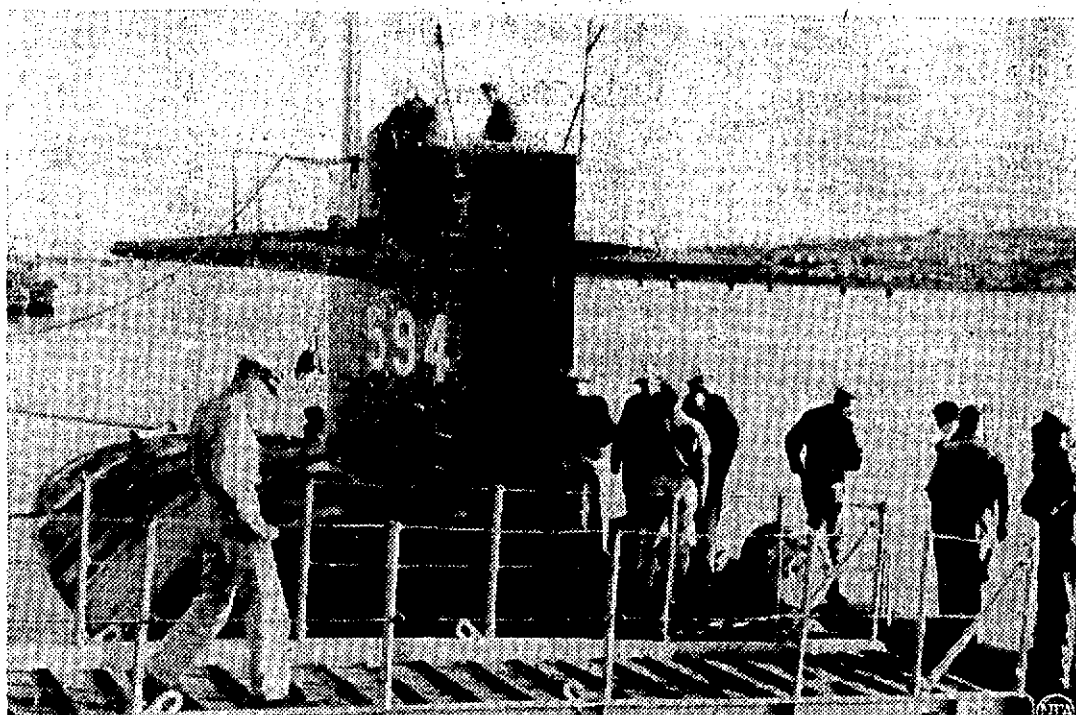

Gilbert said a similar question was involved in the elimination of 80,000 railroad operating employees as recommended by the railroad commission's report.

Negotiations on the work rules dispute are continuing in Chicago. Application of the commission's report and demands of the railroads would abolish 400 jobs in the Little Rock area, Gilbert said, and cost the city $4 million in wages, taxes and other revenue.

Former Estes Employees Will Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — Investigators were reported today to have received a major break in the Billie Sol Estes case—discovery that some of the indicted financier's former employees are willing to talk about his financial dealings.

A highly placed source, declining to be quoted by name, said that as a result the Senate investigations subcommittee now has hopes of at least partly solving the riddle posed by entries in Estes' cash books indicating payments of about $235,000 to a "Washington project."

Who or what the Washington project is remains a mystery. Estes has been quoted in a Texas court of inquiry as having bragged about making payoffs amounting to $100,000 to $200,000 a year, without suggesting who got the money or for what purpose.

In other developments here: 1. Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., chairman of the subcommittee, said Estes definitely will be subpoenaed as a witness for public hearings expected to start within a month. Estes would have a constitutional right to refuse to answer questions.

2. Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., told a news conference he has evidence indicating the Estes scandal "may make Teapot Dome look like a Sunday School picnic."

Word that investigators were getting information from associates of Estes stopped short of saying who was doing the talking or what they might be saying.

Long Summer Politically

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — It looks like a long, hot summer in Arkansas, politically and weather-wise.

The mercury zoomed to 90 degrees in Little Rock Thursday, a record for the date. Pine Bluff and Ozark reported 91-degree readings and Newport and Gilbert had 90.

In Little Rock alone, 27 million gallons of water were used, another record and water use is a good indication of what the residents thought of the 90-degree weather.

The political thermometer probably won't get that hot until after June 1, when primary campaigns traditionally kick off in Arkansas.

Bulletin

Former Sheriff Jimmie Cook died today in a local hospital after a short illness. Survivors include his wife, a brother, Wallace of Little Rock and a sister, Mrs. Norman Moore. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Parents of Children Not Found

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — The parents of two small children found abandoned here in an all-night laundromat have been identified but not found.

Police Chief Wingate White said the parents were Clyde Ray Lamb, 25, of Little Rock, Ark., and his 20-year-old wife Ruby.

Capt. Robert Weiner said the possibility of foul play "is not excluded."

After several weeks of investigation and a trip to Little Rock where friends and relatives of the children were questioned, police have failed to turn up a trace of the parents.

Two children, a 2-year-old boy and an 11-month old girl were found in self-service laundry the morning of April 4.

White said yesterday investigation revealed the Lambs and their three children, including a 3-year-old son who could talk, left Little Rock about three weeks before the two children were found in Baton Rouge.

Charles Lamb was reported to have had about $200 and was traveling with Mansfield Rice, and a 40-year-old woman, both of Little Rock, police said.

After a check with Arkansas authorities, investigators found Rice had been released from the state penitentiary at Little Rock Sept. 9, 1961. He had served 10 years of a 21 year sentence after having been convicted of carnal abuse of a 12-year-old girl.

The two children are in the parish welfare nursing home where they were reported "adjusting very well."

Now Denies Program Was Coached

NEWBURGH, N.Y. (AP) — Thomas H. Weygant, 34, an unemployed laborer, has repudiated a tape-recorded confession in which he said he was coached and paid for a television review of Newburgh's controversial welfare program.

The telecast was on the level, Weygant said at a news conference Thursday shortly after City Manager Joseph Mitchell played the recording for newsmen.

Weygant, father of three, said he made the recording for Mitchell to protect his children. He said he lied in the confession because he was coerced by city officials and threatened with loss of his children.

The National Broadcasting Co. television program, entitled "The Battle of Newburgh," was partly critical of the welfare policies inaugurated by Mitchell last year. A State Supreme Court order, obtained by state officials, has invalidated practically all of the tightened rules drawn up by Mitchell.

The television program, aired nationally last Jan. 28, showed Weygant weeping as he talked of the problems of the city's relief recipients.

NBC has said in a statement that the program was not rigged in any way, but was researched and developed with accuracy and fairness. The network said Weygant was not paid to appear on the program, but received $50 later out of sympathy for his plight.

In the recording played by Mitchell, Weygant said: "The whole show was rigged." Weygant said NBC paid him $50 for appearing with others on the program.

In repudiating the confession, Weygant said he was neither rehearsed nor paid in advance, and the weeping was not faked. He said the NBC television crew donated $50 to him with no strings attached.

2-Party System Film

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A film boosting the two-party system in Arkansas was previewed here Monday by newsmen. The 12-minute film, entitled "Take Two," was produced by the Committee for a Two-Party System. Winthrop Rockefeller, Republican national committeeman from Arkansas, said the animated film would be available for use by civic clubs and other organizations.

U.S. Likely to Add to Military Power in Asia

By JOON M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy called in his top military and diplomatic policymakers today amid reports he is planning to strengthen U.S. military power in Southeast Asia to meet a spreading crisis in Laos.

It was understood U.S. naval forces may be sent to the area in the next day or so.

Summoned to the White House for the midmorning conference on Laos were Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

All returned Friday night from trips around the world. McNamara spent considerable time in Southeast Asia, where the new outbreak of fighting between Laos government forces and Communist-backed Pathet Lao rebels is proving a source of great concern to the U.S. government.

Kennedy is reported considering strong measures to deal with the situation, assuming that diplomatic efforts to restore a year-long cease-fire in the embattled kingdom prove futile.

In the past the United States has avoided direct military intervention on behalf of the government forces. The question of U.S. military action in the country was recently reopened for review by the President.

The U.S. training and observation mission in Laos is reported to total only about 170 military men and 30 civilians. This is a very small group in comparison with approximately 5,000 Americans engaged in training and supporting government forces in South Viet Nam.

Diplomatic attempts to bring the situation under control hinge mainly on the hope of Soviet cooperation.

Both the United States and Britain have appealed to Moscow to join in halting the fighting by using its influence with Communist and pro-Communist leaders. So far the Soviet government has declined to commit itself, officials said.

The cease-fire was broken a week ago when pro-Communist forces began moving on the provincial capital of Nam Tha in northwest Laos. They captured that town, a stronghold of pro-Western government forces, and have continued to advance against rapidly retreating government troops. The State Department said Friday its information indicated government troops were fleeing into neighboring Thailand.

One major concern of Kennedy administration leaders is that the Red military surge in Laos might upset and endanger the rest of Southeast Asia.

The changing military situation is regarded here as having a direct impact on the political prospects in Laos. The Communists now dominate more than two thirds of the country, according to U.S. official estimates, and pro-government forces less than one third.

State Appeals Unit Election System

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Democratic party of Georgia appealed to the Supreme Court today to uphold Georgia's county unit election system as used in party primaries.

A formal appeal, in which Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook of Georgia joined, asked quick reversal of an April 28 decision by a three-judge federal court. The decision was that the county unit system violates the equal protection of laws clause of the federal constitution's 14th Amendment.

The system is based on the distribution of seats in the Georgia Legislature, a division which for many years has given such populous counties as Fulton—Atlanta—only three times the voting weight of the most sparsely populated south Georgia county. The difference between the values of individual votes between such areas is figured as high as 99 to 1.

The federal court also ruled out a slight modification voted by the Georgia Legislature only the day before the court acted.

The Democratic primary for nomination of candidates for governor, U.S. senator, and state house offices is scheduled Sept. 12.

The Average Talking Time Doesn't Apply to the Silent Sams and Henpecked Hubbie

By MARY ANITA LASETER

Appropriately, this is both Better Hearing Month and National Radio Month. Did you realize that you spend about 45% of your waking hours listening and only 25% in talking, reading, and writing? (That's an average and does not apply merely to Silent Sams and hen-pecked husbands.)

Sound has been the object of deep interest since the beginning of communication, but the emphasis has been more on understanding what man hears than on how he hears it. Now, through newer science it is hoped that the mysteries of hearing can be solved.

Two animals which represent the extremes of hearing systems among vertebrates are the "blind bat" and the "earless" fish. Man's own hearing system falls into a category between these.

First, let's look at the bat. After all, his auditory system is so sophisticated. This animal is usually regarded as a silent attacker, but in reality he emits a high frequency cry, too high for the human ear to detect. This travels in a narrow beam, and when it strikes an object, it bounces back. The echo tells the almost blind bat where the object is and something about its shape and size. Thus, the bat can fly accurately and maneuver deftly for prey, even though it is almost blind.

On the other hand, we have the fish. To the human mind's eye, it is even more remarkable that a fish, which has neither a middle nor an inner ear, can dart true different but equally efficient hearing systems may pave the way for more advanced telephonic devices as well as pointing out to man that his own communications system — the nervous system — has functions worth reproducing in man-made communications systems.

Probably one phase of the entire procedure will remain hidden from "homo sapiens." That is, how does the human mind pick out particular sounds from a mass of noise? A loud noise might not awaken a person when the weak cry of one's child can arouse any parent. Why? A sixth sense?

We may never have a scientific explanation more conclusive than "instinct." We could not have a more truthful answer than "another part of God's great plan."

Disillusioned With Life in Russia

NEW YORK (AP)—A former Philadelphia railroad worker, who forsook the United States in the belief that a better life beckoned in the Soviet Union, returned home with his family today in bitter disillusionment.

"I have made an exceptionally tragic mistake," David Paul Johnson, 32, sadly told newsmen at Idlewild Airport.

Although Johnson, his wife and twin 4-year-old sons spent about a week in the Soviet Union, he said it takes only 10 minutes there to see that the Soviet Union is "an evil, bad thing."

Johnson said that anyone inclined to support Communist causes in this country, as he did, ought to go to there and look around and see what is there.

Resignation of Mears Accepted

MONTICELLO, Ark. (AP)—The Arkansas A&M College Board of Regents accepted the resignation of President Jack W. Mears Thursday.

Clifton Trigg, chairman of the board, said no successor to Mears has been decided upon. The board expects to select a new president before Dr. Mears leaves June 30 to become president of Cerritos College at Norwalk, Cal., Trigg said. No applications are on file, he added.

Mears will continue as president and assist the board during the transition period.

Department Store Sales Show Hike

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Department store sales were up 12 per cent last week in the Eighth Federal Reserve District compared to the similar week a year ago.

The St. Louis Federal Reserve Bank reported the increases ranged from 5 per cent at St. Louis to a whopping 35 per cent for seven smaller district cities combined. Sales were up 15 per cent in Louisville, 1 per cent in Little Rock and 25 per cent in Memphis.

For the past four weeks, district sales were 13 per cent above 1961, with increases of 12 per cent in St. Louis, 17 per cent in Louisville and Memphis and 22 per cent in the smaller cities. Sales in Little Rock were about the same.

Sales for the year to date are running 5 per cent ahead of last year.

Mysterious Objects Seen in Flight

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Test pilot Joe Walker says film taken during his recent flight in the rocket-powered X15 experimental plane to a record height of 246,700 feet showed five or six mysterious objects.

It was the third report of unexplained objects at high altitudes. American astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., and Soviet cosmonaut Gherman Titov reported sighting strange objects during orbital flights around the earth.

Walker, a pilot for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, made the disclosure at the National Conference on Peaceful Uses of Space Thursday. He was one of an eight-man panel of American, space explorers, discussing "experimental flights."

Glenn also was on the panel. Walker said the film was from a camera mounted on the fuselage of the X15 and pointed toward the rear. He said the objects appeared as the plane arced over the top of its flight and headed for earth.

"I don't feel like speculating about the nature of these objects," Walker said. "All I know is what appeared on the film in later study. I saw nothing myself during the flight of this nature."

"From what we can tell, they seemed to be disc-shaped, or perhaps even cylindrical. But it's impossible to estimate their size or their distance from the camera."

Glenn, who reported seeing fiery-like objects during his three orbits, was questioned about reports that they might have been condensed crystals of water vapor from his capsule—snowflakes.

"I don't feel they were snowflakes, or paint peeling off the outside of the capsule," he replied. "I don't feel they originated from the capsule at all, because some of them were coming toward me."

Titov has said he noticed something like fireflies during his 17 orbits. He said he saw them first from the booster and then from the retro rockets.

Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson closed the space meeting Thursday night at a banquet with a speech in which he voiced cautious optimism for cooperation from Russia in space exploration. Johnson is chairman of the National Space Council.

Bentonville Warns Telephone Firm

BENTONVILLE, (AP) — The Bentonville City Council has notified Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. it will withdraw its operating franchise unless differences over rates and franchise tax can be worked out.

Mayor Wayne Lawson tentatively set June 12 for negotiations. If the city administration acted to oust Southwestern Bell it would take more than a year to do it legally.

Aldermen feel the present 91 cents per phone franchise tax is too small and that the phone company was unfair in consolidating Rogers and Bentonville into one exchange and in counting extension phones in doing it, resulting in a price increase.

Last year Bentonville dropped Southwestern Electric Power Co. for a municipal power system. Should it drop Southwestern Bell, it is expected to invite an independent Benton County telephone company to serve it.

Lightning From Estes Deal Hits Administration

By HARRY KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lightning from the Billie Sol Estes storm struck high up in the Kennedy Administration Thursday night. Assistant Secretary of Labor Jerry R. Holleman resigned, saying he had accepted $1,000 from the indicted Texas financier.

In a letter delivered to President Kennedy, Holleman revealed the gift from Estes—whose wheeling and dealing with government farm programs and officials is being investigated by two congressional committees and by four grand juries in Texas.

He said he took the money from Estes, a friend for 10 years, because he was having trouble making ends meet on his government salary of $20,000 a year.

"He offered to help me out by a personal gift," said the 43-year-old Holleman. "I accepted this gift."

Holleman related that he accepted the money in January "before I knew anything about Mr. Estes' involvements." And, he added, "The gift has no connection with any of Mr. Estes' interests or my responsibilities. This was entirely a personal matter."

But, Holleman said in his letter to the President, "I realize at the same time, that the circumstances which have developed make it inevitable that this incident will be misunderstood and that it will be embarrassing to me personally. I am not going to let any of this embarrassment affect anyone else, particularly you and Secretary Goldberg (Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg)."

Goldberg announced the resignation had been accepted and said: "It is regrettable that this has happened, under the circumstances, Mr. Holleman has taken the proper course of action."

Holleman's resignation was "the latest development in the swiftly-moving and sensational case involving Estes. The 37-year-old onetime Peccot farm boy built a huge financial empire on cut-rate sales of liquid fertilizer, government grain storage payments, cotton allotments and mortgages on allegedly nonexistent fertilizer tanks. He has since declared himself bankrupt."

A Texas court of inquiry turned up evidence that Democrat Estes made big profits from the government surplus grain and cotton programs. Some reports estimate that he received as much as $3 million in payments for storing surplus grain and used the money to build his overextended financial castle.

Republicans, seeing a possible chance to embarrass the administration, have accused the Democratic-controlled congressional committees of dragging their feet. The Republicans contend Estes got favored treatment from the Agriculture Department and demand hearings begin quickly.

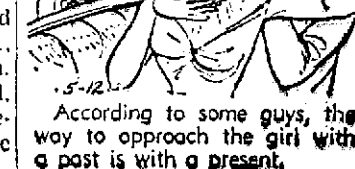

New Life in Vote Bill Being Tried

WASHINGTON (AP)—An effort by Senate civil rights advocates to pump new life into the administration's voter literacy test bill appeared today to be making no headway.

The outlook for a proposal of Sen. Francis Case, R-S.D., to rewrite the legislation in the form of a constitutional amendment seemed just about equally bleak. Monday, another vote will be taken on a petition to limit further debate on the bill. The Senate is in recess today.

A first attempt to invoke the Senate's antifilibuster rule in the face of determined Southern opposition to the bill was crushed Wednesday.

Not even the most ardent supporters of the bill claim the situation can be reversed Monday.

According to some guys, the way to approach the girl with a past is with a present.

Pink and Blue Shower

On Tuesday, May 8 W. Sharihouse and Son employees complimented their concession stand operator and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Cole, with a pink and blue shower. They received many lovely and useful gifts.

Girl Scout Troop 75 Camp Out

Girl Scout Troop 75 spent Friday night at Yellow Creek at the Jim James cabin. The girls were divided into patrol groups and each girl was responsible for her job as cook, fire builder and cleanup.

After a spaghetti supper the group enjoyed story telling, singing and marshmallow roasting around the campfire. The next morning the group went on a hike. Those assisting Mrs. Fred McElroy, leader, were Mrs. Gordon Tyler, Mrs. Jim James and Mrs. J. W. McRoy.

Friendship Club Meets

Mrs. H. M. Valentine was hostess for a meeting of 47 Friendship Club Wednesday, May 9 and used dogwood blossoms and roses as floral decoration. The president, Mrs. C. F. Wiggins, opened the meeting.

The hostess read the devotion. Mrs. Odell Luck was a guest. The surprise package was won by the hostess. Ice cream, cake, and cold drinks were served for refreshments.

Mrs. Story Circle 3 Hostess

Mrs. Garrett Story was hostess to Circle 3 of the WSCS of First Methodist Church at her home on Monday. The meeting was opened with prayer by the leader, Mrs. Edwin Ward, who also conducted the business period. It was decided to hold the circle meeting during the summer months at from an airliner at Idlewild. There was no immediate word as to what they would do next, except that Johnson said he wished to talk with a State Department representative.

Before leaving London on Thursday night, he told embassy officials that he misjudged the whole situation. He reported he found Russians ill-fed and clothed, and living in poor housing.

Johnson said he had supported Communist causes in Philadelphia for the past eight years but never was a party member.

Johnson seemed nervous as he faced a large group of reporters and photographers.

"I have made an exceptionally tragic mistake," he said to them. "Unfortunately it involves my family and myself. We are trying to pick up the pieces of our tragic life. I hope we can make it. We want to get home."

Johnson was asked to give his impression of the Soviet Union, as he found it during his short visit.

"It is an evil, bad thing," he said.

Someone wanted to know how he could make up his mind in such a short time.

"Ten minutes is all you need," Johnson replied.

Johnson's wife, Joanne, 30, and children stayed in an airline office during his brief meeting with the press. Johnson consented to meet with the press only on the basis that his wife not be present. He said she was very tired.

Johnson had been a $12-a-week timekeeper for the Pennsylvania Railroad in Philadelphia. He and his wife sold all their furnishings and most other possessions to finance the move to the Soviet Union.

Their disillusionment came quickly. By last Monday they were back in London—again on the Baltika. They had to spend three days on it at the London docks because British immigration officials refused permission for them to land.

That was because the Johnsons had only about $450 left, not enough to pay for plane tickets home. The order was rescinded when Mrs. Johnson's father, John Zapanas of Manchester, N.H., put up the $300 additional needed.

DOROTHY DIX

Moosher or Dreamer

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: I'm a peculiar guy, always day-dreaming. The things that really matter, like recognizing the right girl when I meet her, register big, but little things I pass by.

"The right girl lives just a few blocks from me, is 18 (I'm 19) and works as a private secretary. I'm looking for a job. But, having been out of school since I was 13, it isn't easy. To my way of thinking, being self-taught, I'm better educated than most kids who finish high school, read a lot, delve into the subjects that interest me and talk to people. They teach me a lot.

Right now I'm taking a correspondence course which carries me through Grade Nine. But materially, I've not accomplished much since I left school. I guess I moon around too much. I'm at my girl's house every day. Her parents say I'm a fine boy. I try to help with the dishes and make myself generally useful. They often ask me to stay for supper. I do, because I think highly of both of them and the mother is an excellent cook.

Twice I've asked the girl to marry me. The first time she said, maybe, in a couple of years. The second time, which was last week, she didn't answer. Ever since I mentioned marriage, she and her family seem to take me as one big joke.

While the mother tells me she (links the world of me, she admits to others that I'm not exactly her ideal of a son-in-law. What does she mean by that? She gives me money to take her daughter out, buys us tickets for dances and sees that I have enough to treat afterwards. This worries me. Tonight, I am going to ask my girl's father if he thinks I should be less underfoot. If he says yes, I shall stay away, with no ill thoughts of him or anybody else, but it won't be easy. Maybe I'm a moosher and don't know it. What do you think?

Troubled.

Dear Dorothy: You're a day-dreamer, not a moosher, since you do lend a helping hand with the work at your girl's home. But in its way, day-dreaming—which is closing your eyes to reality, is just as much of a fault.

Ours is a practical world. To live in it, you should support yourself and — if you intend to marry, a wife. If, you sponge on others, you are a moosher. Quite naturally your girl's parents are concerned about your irresponsibility. Until you find an objective and a job your girl's parents would be lacking in love for her if they took you seriously.

Know yourself. Face your hopes and fears. Make up your mind where you are going. Once you decide, I'm sure your girl's parents, who seem very understanding people, will meet you halfway. Until then don't, as you say, be too much underfoot.

Dear Helen: My boy friend asked me to write you. He is 35. I am 18. He is always telling me that he's too old for me and fears he will spoil my life. I don't agree. Age makes no difference because I love him. If he was bedridden the rest of his life, I would feel the same way. He is a woman-hy, because other girls gave him hard jolts. If ordered to stand against a wall and be shot to prove my love, I would gladly do it. Short of this, how can I convince him that we were meant for each other? Be the answer to my prayers and tell me.—C.

Dear C.: If this man really loved you he wouldn't hesitate. The very fact that he raises objections indicates this. Don't press the issue. Despite your present feelings he may not be the one for you. What are you doing in

Negro Cook Is Sent to Hyannis Port

The fare of David Harris, 43, an unemployed Negro short order cook, was paid by Amis Guthridge, president of the segregationist Capital Citizens Council.

Davis, who said he had been out of work for one week and was down to his last $2 quipped before boarding his bus: "I'll be up there a couple of years and make a lot of money. Then, I'll buy me a red Cadillac and come back and see you, Amis, and we'll go fishing."

His fare amounted to $31.25 for the one-way trip. Guthridge also gave him $10 spending money.

Originally the council who had planned to send two families to Hyannis Port, but got no takers. Most Negro applicants preferred California, and Tuesday, Wyman Berry left for Stockton, Calif., as the first "taker."

Guthridge noted that the President's brother, Edward (Ted) Kennedy, and several Massachusetts civic and religious organizations planned to aid Negroes leaving Little Rock for the state, under transportation provided by the council.

"In view of the fine hospitality Mr. Kennedy offered, we are sure he will welcome David at the Kennedy home," Guthridge commented.

Harris, in seemingly jolly spirits, said he was going to Hyannis Port because he couldn't make any money in Little Rock.

And he acknowledged that he thought the council's plans for exporting Negroes over the nation would help solve integration problems.

Harris told Guthridge, in making application for the trip, that he had served 16 years in the Army and at one time was a recruiter in the Boston area.

His bus is scheduled to arrive at Hyannis Port around 3:20 p.m. Saturday.

Guthridge said the Citizens Council would continue sending Negroes to the north and west.

At Worcester, Mass., George C. Lodge, a former U.S. Assistant Secretary of Labor, charged Massachusetts was "shameful problems of racial discrimination that must be rooted out."

He told a Holy Cross audience that 50,000 of Boston's 63,000 Negroes live in a three-square mile area of sub-standard housing, forced there in part because of severe suburban segregation policies.

Lodge, who is a candidate for the Republican nomination for U.S. Senator, called on President Kennedy to issue an executive order banning racial segregation in federally financed housing.

Meanwhile, one of three Negroes sent to Chicago last week by the White Citizens Council of Greater New Orleans was on a bus returning to Louisiana convinced that his free ride north was a mistake.

The return ticket and pocket money for Reggie Moffett, 45, were provided by the Cook County (Chicago) Public Aid Department after he was unable to find a job and asked to return to New Orleans. The other two men obtained work.

Ralph Collins, executive director of travelers aid society, said "this proves what we have said is true. Sending people to places where they do not have jobs and places to live can only result in the injury of the persons and families involved."

Opinion of JFK's Father Gets Laugh

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy drew laughter from newsmen as he fielded a question about a quote attributed to him that "my father always told me that all businessmen were sons of bitches, but I never believed it till now."

Here's the exchange between a newsmen and the President at Wednesday's news conference on the quote, published April 23 by the New York Times:

"Mr. President, at the time of your controversy with the steel industry, you were quoted as making a rather harsh statement about businessmen. I am sure you know which statement I have in mind."

"Yes. You would not want to identify it, would you?"

"Would I want to comment on President?"

"Would I want to comment on it?"

"Yes."

"Oh, well, the statement which I have seen repeated as it was repeated in one daily paper, is inaccurate. It quotes my father as having expressed himself strongly to me, and that in this I quoted what he said, and indicated that he had not been, as he had not been on many other occasions, wholly wrong."

"Now, the only thing wrong with the statement was that as it appeared in the daily paper it indicated that he was critical of the business community—I think the phrase was "all businessmen." That is obviously in error, because he was a businessman himself. He was critical of the steel men, and he'd worked for a steel company himself, and he was involved when he was a member of the Roosevelt administration in the 1937 strike, and he formed an opinion which he imparted to me and which I found appropriate that evening. But he confined it, and I would confine it."

"Obviously these generalizations are inaccurate and unfair, and he has been a businessman, and the business system has been very generous to him. But I felt at a time that we had not been treated altogether with frankness, and therefore I thought that his view had merit. But that is past. That's past. Now we are working together. I hope."

What part the father, Joseph P. Kennedy, played in the steel crisis of 1937 is not clear. He was an intimate of President Roosevelt, who appointed him in that year to be ambassador to London.

Says Role of Women Is in the Home

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—A good-looking psychiatrist named Marie N. Robinson thinks it's high time women were told the truth: They're different from men. They should be educated differently. Their place is in the home.

When she says this, sometimes educators shudder, men rush up to insist their wives are as good as they are and women inquire coldly if she also favors keeping them barefoot and pregnant.

"To acknowledge the difference in sex roles doesn't mean to put women back in the kitchen," Dr. Robinson argues.

"But a woman's historical and biological role is in the home. Her job is keeping the tone of that home happy and loving, interesting members of the family to each other. This is what we women are uniquely designed for."

"A woman who feels deprived if she can't go out to work every day, who says 'I can't do anything, I have four children to take care of' isn't enjoying the right role of women. Our contribution is to set the spiritual tone of the household. Let the men go out and make the money."

Slim, brunette Dr. Robinson, wife of a writer and mother of a 15-year-old son, is the author of "The Power of Sexual Surrender," a study of the frigid woman. Besides maintaining a private practice she is active in community health projects and consequently is not one to point a finger at working wives.

Because a woman's major anxiety is less of love, Dr. Robinson says, she is more concerned about her home than her job.

"I bring more anxiety to family problems or the kind of dinner I'm going to cook than to my out-

U. S. Car Bombed

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — The official car of U.S. Consul Donald Lewis was destroyed by a thrown gasoline bomb in Maracaibo Thursday.

The U.S. Embassy here said it received word the car was parked in front of Lewis' residence when unknown persons threw the bomb into it.

Venezuelan authorities said they suspected extreme leftists were involved.

Man Fatally Injured in Wreck

State Trooper Gilbert Mann said Brown apparently lost control of the car and it plunged off the highway.

A passenger, Bill Lane, 22, of Blitheville, was slightly injured.

BRING YOUR PRECIOUS FURS to the LADIES SPECIALTY SHOP for CLEANING & STORAGE

There's a crying need for women's colleges to stop turning into men's schools, says Dr. Robinson.

"Instead some brave school should stand up and say 'women are different, have God-given gifts, and let's see where a woman's pleasure does come from—from chemistry 203 or from keeping the love level high in a family.'"

Every hour of every day...and night...consciously or subconsciously... we draw upon Mother's strength and love. It is a meager tribute that we should pause once a year and dedicate one day to Mother.

Mother is what makes the wheels go round. Home isn't home without Mother. The countless details, the careful planning, the constant loving care... that make Mother every time. Children won't tick without Mother. From the start, Mother is our warm meal when we are hungry, our extra blanket on a cold night, our light in a dark room. Little minds and hearts reach out for MOTHER. Baby-sitters aren't the same. Servants are insufficient. Even Daddy isn't quite enough. A well child runs on eager feet to tell MOTHER of his joys; a sick child calls constantly for MOTHER to soothe away his pains. There's something special, something extra, that comes only from Mother.

Who else can kiss a hurt and make it well? Who else can give us lovely memories of a happy childhood, rich with fun and friends? And who, but Mother, can lead us from our earliest days to find Him as our Refuge and Strength, a very present Help in time of trouble?

Life brings floods of uncertainties, disappointments, failures. Mother is the rock that stands fast. Her faith is sure, her spirit never wavering, her love never failing. Life, too, brings joy, achievement, success. Then we know one heart is happier even than our own. Mother is then the soaring cloud of radiant rapture, lifting us to new attempts.

So They May See == Psalms 127 and 128 == So They May Hear

EXCEPT THE LORD build the house, they labour in vain that build it: except the Lord keep the city, the watchman waketh but in vain.

2. It is vain for you to rise up early, to sit up late, to eat the bread of sorrows: for so he giveth his beloved sleep.

3. Lo, children are an heritage of the Lord: and the fruit of the womb is his reward.

4. As arrows are in the hand of a mighty man; so are children of the youth.

5. Happy is the man that hath his quiver full of them: they shall not be ashamed, but they shall speak with the enemies in the gate,

BLESSED IS EVERY ONE that feareth the Lord; that walketh in his ways.

2. For thou shalt eat the labour of thine hands: happy shalt thou be, and it shall be well with thee.

3. Thy wife shall be as a fruitful vine by the sides of thine house; thy children like olive plants round about thy table.

4. Behold, that thus shall the man be blessed that feareth the Lord.

5. The Lord shall bless thee out of Zion: and thou shalt see the good of Jerusalem all the days of thy life.

6. Yea, thou shalt see thy children's children, and peace upon Israel.
